

Notes from Awapuni Rotary Club meeting on 23rd Nov:

Our meeting heard from Business Coach Wayne Dellow, about people's strengths and personality. Understanding who we and they are. Instead of one of those programmes that puts you into boxes, Wayne explained that we are all different – with some people seeking Influence, some more Compliance motivated, some firm on Stability, and some keen on Dominance. But all of us are part of all of it to a lesser or greater degree. A key point was to recognise and celebrate our strengths and interests – because we are all OK! A result of this is the understanding of the reasons we find working with certain people more stressful than with others.

Wayne explained that It's all about awareness and being willing to adapt your style to fit in with others, and that It can make you a better leader and a better team player.

Wayne indicated he could talk for hours..... and I think all there would have been happy to listen.
